In a wheelchair across America for a cause

A disabled athlete, Janusz Radgowski will undertake his Pacific–Atlantic ‘super– marathon’ in an active wheelchair raising support for a two year old child, suffering from a brain illness. Zuzia was born with a complex genetic brain condition that severely affects her vision and physical development. Constant therapy and surgery is needed to help her develop a normal life.

Janusz Radgowski’s Pacific–Atlantic route in a wheelchair begins in Seattle on May 2, 2016 at 9 am with a live start from Sam Smith Park at 1521 Martin Luther King Jr Way S, Seattle, WA 98144, via I–90 trail. His journey in Washington State will consist of 20 days of travel, including WA State Route 203, US Route 2 in Washington and WA State Route 290, with stops in Klahanie, Monroe, Baring, Scenic, Stevens Pass, Winton, Leavenworth, Monitor, Orondo, Farmer, Coulee City, Almira, Creston, Davenport, Airway Heights & Newman Lake, and continuing into Idaho, North Dakota, South Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Maryland, and Delaware. He plans to travel over 3 thousand miles, crossing 12 states in 6 months and ending his journey in Delaware in October 2016.

Previously, Janusz has completed a wheelchair marathon from Rome, Italy to Wadowice, Poland in 2015. His ‘super–marathon’ in the United States is a challenge with enormous proportion and he is determined to succeed. In his journey, he will be accompanied by a van with technical and communications support. Please help support Janusz and his cause by visiting <http://pacific-atlantic.pl/en/donate/>

All donations raised go directly to help Zuzia’s healthcare and development.
